

Press Release 2011/05 #1

Castlegem offering free lifetime VPS and special rates on selected VPS and dedicated server solutions.

For a limited time Castlegem is now offering free lifetime VPS in exchange for a backlink and sponsorship mentioning. Please see for details on these deals.

Castlegem have upped their service breadth and depth in offering more special deals every month now. In addition to the lifetime VPS Castlegem is now offering large storage VPS as well as a limited number of high performance dedicated servers at very special rates.

Castlegem have also added the Solus control panel for one of their VPS ranges in addition to already offering cPanel and PLESK to their customers. Customers can now choose between various levels and degrees of virtualisation and opt more servicing and management options to their contracts.

With 6 points of presence in action and 2 more to follow in 2011, Castlegem has started offering global clustering and redundancy solutions to their customers. Failover, multiple nodes in multiple, independent state of the art data centres are now integral part of their services for virtual private and root servers as well as all dedicated server solutions.

Castlegem have added additional multi gigabit links to their backbone, increasing throughput to satisfy even the highest demands, offering unmatched transatlantic connectivity.

Last but not least, suffice to mention that all dedicated servers and virtual / root servers are high end manufacturer hardware with full lifetime support, and offer a wide range of additional options such as managed system, 24/7 sysadmin availability, redundant servers, backup/recovery strategies, etc.

With this kind of connectivity, we can accommodate any global bandwidth needs for high volume traffic, and our latest dedicated servers and virtual private servers along with our connectivity will give you the IT infrastructure you need for your internet and online venture.
