

Press Release 2011/08 #1

Castlegem sponsoring CentOS and offering unmetered VPS

Castlegem has started sponsoring the CentOS project and community with a dedicated server out of their X34xx range. This is in line with our philosophy to further the Linux community, particularly all distributions related to RedHat, i.e. CentOS and Fedora. Already being a RedHat partner, it was only natural for us to follow up and sponsor CentOS - specifically because a large number of customers are already running CentOS as their Linux operating system of choice on their dedicated servers or virtual private server.

Furthermore, Castlegem is now offering unmetered a virtual private server (VPS) plan for our customers. It includes a dedicated Intel Xeon or Opteron CPU core, 2GB guaranteed RAM, 50GB of Hardware Raid hard disk space, and no bandwidth limitations on a 100mbps uplink. The monthly cost is only USD 75.
